La Rousse Foods Sponsors Food On The Edge - An International Food Summit of Food and Food Culture Coming to Galway in October

Food on The Edge is a coming-together of top international chefs and food leaders for a 2-day Food Symposium in Galway on 19th and 20th October 2015

For the first time ever in Ireland and the UK, over 40 of the best international chefs and 350 attendees each day will converge for a two-day symposium consisting of talks, presentations, networking, entertainment and knowledge sharing. La Rousse Foods is delighted to be the official sponsor of this prestigious event.

Food On The Edge is the brainchild of JP McMahon, owner of the EatGalway restaurant group which includes Michelin-starred Aniar Restaurant in Galway. JP is also the “Cook It Raw” Ambassador in Ireland, which has seen him attend and participate in international food events in USA, Mexico, Finland, Canada and other countries. It was through this involvement that the idea for “Food On The Edge” was sown.

Speakers and attendees confirmed for the event reads like a who’s who in the restaurant world. Flying in from San Francisco, Mexico, Singapore, Denmark, Sweden, Spain and many other places not least, the UK, they are coming to converge, speak and attend the event

Albert Adria, recently crowned best pastry chef in the world by Fine Dining Lovers World’s Top 50 Restaurants, will travel from Spain to attend and speak. Daniel Clifford, the UK chef who is best known for his work at the two Michelin star restaurant Midsummer House and winner of the 2012 and 2013 series of the BBC’s Great British Menu will join the discussion on the Future of Food.

Matt Orlando, from Amass in Copenhagen, will speak about the responsibilities of chef in terms of sustainability while 2-star Michelin chef Tim Raue, Berlin, will speak about the complexities and simplicities of flavour and food harmony. There are over 40 speakers in total, a heady impressive list that will have attendees leaving Galway inspired and far more knowledgeable on global food trends and the future of food culture.
